Qur'anic Solutions to Global Crises

13th International Bediuzzaman Symposium
To Be Held in Istanbul.

Since 1991, the Istanbul Foundation for Knowledge and Culture (IFKC) has partnered with many international organizations and academic institutions to host symposia honoring Bediuzzaman Said Nursi's scholarly and spiritual guidance, with the goal of creating a better, more livable world.

As the latest link in this tradition, the 13th International Bediuzzaman Symposium will take place in Istanbul on October 4–6, 2026, under the title, "Qur'anic Solutions to Global Crises." Approximately 200 participants, including academics, scholars of Islam, influencers, media professionals, thought leaders, and NGO representatives, from approximately 60 countries across several continents, as well as a large audience, are expected to attend this symposium to identify the material and spiritual crises facing humanity today and propose solutions inspired by the Qur'an, the Sunnah, and the broader Islamic tradition.

With the attendance of the representatives of the Presidency of the Republic of Türkiye, the Turkish Office of Religious Affairs, and various cultural and educational NGOs, along with distinguished scholars and thought leaders, we expect the 13th International Bediuzzaman Symposium to be a means for building companionship and solidarity following Bediuzzaman Said Nursi's unifying message.

Broad International Participation

The 13th International Bediuzzaman Symposium will be jointly organized with the participation of several universities, international institutions, and foundations.

Invitation

All are invited to this historic gathering—to elevate the light of faith amid humanity's darkness, translate the eternal message of the Qur'an into the language of our age, and share with the world the horizon opened by Bediuzzaman.

This event will be organized with the contributions of Üsküdar University (Türkiye), International Federation of Arab Islamic Schools (Organization of Islamic Cooperation), Union of Afro-Eurasia Universities, Arab Women Organization (League of Arab States), ISTAC –IIUM (Malaysia), El-Zitouna University (Tunisia), Darussalam GONTOR University (Indonesia), University of Kut (Iraq), Elrazi University (Sudan), and several other foundations and organizations.

Within this framework, we have invited high-quality scholarly papers and inspirational contributions on the following themes:

- Vision of Civilization in the New World Order
- Building Revelation-Centered Societies and Families
- Spiritual and Social Problems of the Modern Era

In addressing these themes, participants will discuss their subjects in the light of the Qur'an, the prophetic example, and the broader Islamic tradition, especially as revitalized in the teachings of Bediuzzaman Said Nursi. Presentations will be in Arabic, Turkish, English, and Russian. Simultaneous translations will be provided in Arabic, English, and Turkish on October 4th.

SYMPOSIUM

Representatives from the Presidency of the Republic of Türkiye and the Turkish Office of Religious Affairs, academics from national and international universities, and leaders of educational and cultural institutions will come together in Istanbul.
